Re: Memphis and Shelby County Airport Authority

Dear Mayor Wharton:

Pursuant to the Metropolitan Airport Authority Act of 1969, I hereby nominate Mr. Michael Keeney as the County appointee to the Memphis and Shelby County Airport Authority. Mr. Keeney would replace Mr. Jack Sammons whose term will expire on December 31, 2016. The term of service shall begin upon Memphis City Council approval and expire on December 31, 2016.

Mr. Keeney is an attorney with a variety of skills that would be of great benefit to the citizens of Memphis and Shelby County. I would appreciate your approval of my nomination and forwarding it to the Memphis City Council for approval.

Sincerely,

Mark H. Luttrell, Jr.
Mayor

Nominee Statement from Emily Adams Keplinger

My interest in the Memphis City Beautiful Commission (MCB) began years ago while I was working as a community news editor at The Commercial Appeal. I received information from MCB staff about their community projects and events and helped publicize their activities. Additionally, I tried to promote the organization by writing articles, briefs, calendar listings and social media announcements pertaining to the commission's history, as well as highlighting MCB's current events.

Through that professional association, I learned a great deal about MCB and I gained a great appreciation for the many facets of the organization. Additionally, I was an original member of The Commercial Appeal's "Green Team." For over four years, I was the "Green Girl" for the newspaper and developed a true passion for the sustainability movement as it began to take root and flourish in the Memphis community. All of these experiences brought me into regular contact with the Memphis City Beautiful Commission and its staff. I would be honored to continue to serve as an "ambassador" for MCB as a commissioner, and offer my well-developed "green network" as an asset for serving in that position.

PERSONAL STATEMENT

I am active in the healthcare industry and in the community promoting health and wellness, total quality management, strategic planning, community awareness and volunteer service. My professional experience includes working for a major healthcare provider, non-profit leadership organization, and a private health provider. My community involvement is just as extensive holding leadership and volunteer positions with major non-profits including the faith-based community.

Key Competencies

Relationship Building Team Leadership & Motivation Operations Management Process Improvement
Training & Development Event Design & Planning Vendor Relations Budgeting Expense Control Media
Program Development Customer Service Payroll Recruitment Marketing Mentoring Public Relations

LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

System Community Outreach (2012 – Present)

Baptist Memorial Health Care

I manage the outreach efforts for Baptist Corporate offices focusing on the faith community and homeless mobile clinic outreach efforts to improve health and wellness in our community. I have transformed Memphis Healthy Churches to broaden its scope with Baptist Healthy Community for Metro facilities and Baptist Tipton. My efforts include collaboration with the community through programing, health fairs and events and reporting stats and community benefits to further enhance programs for ongoing health improvement and access to the resources through Baptist.

Practice Manager (1993 – Present)

Charles R. Wallace, Jr., MD

I manage the operations of a solo urology practitioner with duties including human capital management (hiring, recruitment, benefits and evaluations), fiscal management and community outreach. In 2010, I implemented a new billing software and implemented electronic charting using E Clinical Works, a saving of $12K annually.

INSIDE Memphis Director (1997 – 2000)

Leadership Memphis

Designed, recruited, and lead quarterly leadership classes for executives who had moved to Memphis or were advancing into a leadership role in their corporation or organization. I also implemented social events for executives who attended INSIDE Memphis. My thrust was to serve as an advocate for leaders and to get them to know as much about Memphis' history, politics and culture. A major benefit of the program was to expose the class to opportunities for involvement in the community. Program costs were greatly minimized with in-kind contributions.

Director of QSS™ & Staff Education (1988 – 1993)

The Regional Medical Center at Memphis

My first appointment was as an intern working with the VPs and COO on various projects with my focus of Total Quality Management and the cost of doing business right the first time. I worked with the COO to implement the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Program and directed the in-house Quality Serviceship Systems™ (QSS™) which later reported to the CEO. QSS™ included Baldrige criteria, staff education, focus groups, customer and employee service recognition, quality improvement and cost efficiency programs. Documenting and celebrating staff successes in the areas of new innovation, superior customer service, mentoring, and cost efficiency were highlighted monthly. I was able to document $60K in savings from programs I helped to implement in the print shop, education department and housekeeping; however, many of the other departments' progress were reported through QSS™ with cost savings of $1.5M.

Tennessee's 2015 Teacher Of The Year

Posted: Oct 03, 2014 12:30 PM CDT

Updated: Oct 10, 2014 12:30 PM CDT

Memphis, Tenn. — Karen Vogelsang, fourth grade teacher at Keystone Elementary, has been named Tennessee's 2015 Teacher of the Year. She was awarded the state's top teaching honor during the annual Teacher of the Year banquet in Nashville on Thursday night.

Affectionately called Mrs. V by her students, Vogelsang is an 11-year educator and National Board Certified Teacher. Drawing from her 14 years spent in banking prior to becoming a teacher, Vogelsang teaches her students skills that are important in today's team-driven work environments, like collaboration and evidence-based conversations.

"The first time I had an opportunity to teach it was electrifying; I knew then I had made the right decision to become a teacher," Vogelsang said.

In addition to advancing student achievement, Vogelsang is recognized as a school leader and serves as a coach for her peers.

"We are extremely proud of Mrs. Vogelsang's accomplishments and recognition as Tennessee Teacher of the Year," said Superintendent Dorsey Hopson. "It is an honor to employ teachers such as Mrs. V who are so immensely committed to advancing student achievement through effective instruction and exemplary leadership."

Both parents and colleagues believe Vogelsang is a great teacher. Shelby County's literacy instructional advisor, Susan Dold, described Vogelsang's commitment to learning.

"She is a learner as well as a teacher. She lives for her students—no, she lives for all students," Dold said.

During Thursday's banquet, the State also recognized finalists who earned Teacher of the Year for each Grand Division. Vogelsang was recognized as the Grand Division winner for West Tennessee.

As part of her Tennessee Teacher of the Year recognition, Vogelsang will serve on the inaugural Teacher Advisory Council during the 2014-15 school year with the nine regional winners and state finalists.

Biography

I am a designer, artist, and educator living in Memphis, Tennessee. I've recently moved from Atlanta, Georgia to teach design at the Memphis College of Art (MCA). I teach a range of classes from advertising design, packaging design, design systems, and drawing.

When I'm not teaching, I'm interested in finding unique ways to fuse graphic design in public urban spaces. I enjoy working in environments and I've found it very interesting to try and impact positive change by adding meaning in abandoned, neglected, or forgotten spaces.

My most recent project involved a series of signage made out of DOT aluminum road signs and vinyl. The intention of this work was to provoke thoughts about abandonment in community. These signs were placed around Atlanta in neglected sites that were special to me.

Some other interests of mine include brand strategy, identity systems, and communications. I prefer working with local businesses and am passionate about developing beautifully intelligent identity systems. These identity systems can range from logo development and print collateral to advertising, multimedia and environments.

Originally from Boston, I have a bachelor's degree in Industrial Design from Georgia Institute of Technology and a Master's of Fine Arts degree in Graphic Design from Georgia State University. Prior to graduate school, I worked at the Atlanta-based marketing agency, Trend Influence. As a designer on the brand strategy and innovation team, I had the opportunity to work with fortune 500 companies like Coca-Cola, Toyota, International, IC Bus, Levi's, Unilever, and Kimberly-Clark.
